THE RESULT IN CENTRE!

Berry Sweeps County by a Thousand Majority.

KLINE A BIG WINNER.

Nice Majority for the Farmer Boy-Dr. F. K. White Elected Tre asurer-Tuten Wins Out for Register-Rowe Elected Recorder.

THE COMMISSIONERS ARE DEMOCRATIC

The election of 1905 has passed into history and in Centre county it proved unusually exciting for an off year. The majority of the Republican candidates have gone down to defeat, which is cause for genuine regret as they were all worthy of the confidence of the people. However the splendid victory which Henry Kline won for Sheriff over Ellis Schaeffer is cause for congratulation.

The democrats have carried off the balance of the ticket except the Register. John L. Dunlap, C. A. Weaver and John G. Bailey, will conduct the business of the Commissioners office for the next three years. Abram V. Miller has been defeated by a small majority.

For treasurer Dr. Frank K. White, democrat, has defeated Lincoln A. Swartz, one of the best candidates the Republican party ever had on their ticket.

The fight between John C. Rowe and Cyrus T. Hall for Recorder is very close with the chances favoring Rowe. He will have a very small margin to go on, however.

Earle C. Tuten, the Republican candidate for Register has won out over Harry J. Jackson his democratic opponent by a small majority.

As far as the auditors are concerned the result is not known but it is probably Republican.

Dr. Fisher will defeat Huff for Coroner by a small majority.

The Republican party was united this time and they put up a splendid fight but they had the Berry vote to contend with. In Bellefonte they were splendidly organized under Foster and Quigley and the result was they carried the boro by a handsome majority.

Altogether the Republican party can take encouragement from the result Tuesday and by hard work next year put Centre county in the Republican column for the entire ticket.

Henry Kline has received a magnificent testimonial from the people of Centre county and should be justly proud of it.

The result in Centre County unofficially as we learn up to going to press is as follows:

Plummer, 3291, Berry, 4165—874.
Kline, 4407; Shaffer, 3821—586.
Swartz, 3953; White 4283—330
Hall, 4144; Rowe 4149—5.
Tuten, 4204; Jackson 4057—147.
Miller. 3975, Bailey, 4091—116; Dunlap 4227—252; Weaver, 4053—78.

DEMOCRATIC LANDSLIDE!

Berry Wins Out by a Heavy Plurality.

SWEEPS THE STATE

The City Party Wins in Philadelphia by a Handsome Majority—McClellen Mayor of New York.

DEMOCRATS WINS VICTORY IN OHIO

Philadelphia, November 8.—Incomplete returns from various parts of the state indicate the election of Berry, Democrat, for State Treasurer, by a very large plurality, Republican strongholds are showing unexpected gains for Berry, Lancaster county, normally Republican by 10,000, is in doubt. Dauphin county, in which the State Capitol is located, another Republican stronghold, gives Berry 1,500 plurality.

Other Republican counties show the same form of Republican losses. Berry, nominated as a Democrat, was endorsed by the Independent Republicans and the Prohibitionists. In this city the Lincoln party, formed by the Independents, gave Berry a tremendous vote

The State Treasury has been under Republican control since 1880. Roosevelt's plurality last year was 504,000.

RESULT IN PHILADELPHIA.

Philadelphia, November 8.—Philadelphia has been swept by the Reform movement, the City party ticket winning by a surprisingly large plurality.

Complete returns from every ward in the city give the City Party candidates for sheriff 148,679 and the Republican candidate 10,346, a plurality for the City Party of 43 233.

Berry, fusion candidate for State Treasurer, carried the city over Plummer, Republican, by 36,037 plurality.

The victory of the City party carries with it the election of William H. Berry, the Democratic and Reform candidate for State Treasurer.

J. Lee Plummer, the Republican candidate for that office, was badly cut throughout the city and state and he has lost his own county, which is usually Republican.

The result has been a landslide for Reform not only in Philadelphia but throughout the state.

DICK CLAIMS OHIO.

Columbus, Ohio, November 8.—At 11 o'clock Tuesday night the Democratic leaders in this state claimed the election of Pattison and the entire Democratic ticket by substantial pluralities, while the Republicans simply refused to concede such a claim, insisting that the returns were insufficient at the hour to indicate anything except that the vote had been very heavy and that the amount of scratching had made counting very slow. In the cities the Republican losses exceeded 100 to the precinct, but as the loss per precinct outside of the large cities was so far as reported, only about thirty-three was not that the loss would reach high enough to wipe out the 230,000 Republican plurality with which comparisons were made. Less than 300 of the 4,200 precincts had been heard from at 11 o'clock.

At midnight Chairman Dick gave the following statement to the Associated Press:

"The election returns are fragmentary and meagre at this hour, delay being due to the large number of candidates and great deal of local ticket scratching. While it is not practicable as yet to approximate definite figures, indications clearly point to the re-election of Governor Herrick and the entire Republican state ticket by safe pluralities.

"CHARLES DICK, Chairman,"

Columbus, November 8.—(2 a. m.)—The State Journal has estimated pluralities from 63 out of the 80 counties in the state, showing a net plurality of 820 for Herrich for Governor.

MASSACHUSETTS SWINGS OVER.

Boston, November 8.—The Globe, a Democratic paper, says: "Curtis Guild, Republican, has been elected Governor. His plurality will probably be not far from 35,000 or about the same as that which was given to Governor Douglas, Democrat, last year.

THE VOTE BY COUNTIES.

Estimating Berry's plurality in Philadelphia at 40,000 and estimating Plummer's plurality in Allegheny at 10,000, Berry is elected State Treasurer by from 75,000 to 80,000 plurality. In only two counties in the state, Somerset and Washington, are gains shown by the Republicans over the vote for State Treasurer two years ago. Large Democratic gains were made in all the other counties. Several counties, which have heretofore been staunch Republican counties.

RHODE ISLAND IS REPUBLICAN.

Providence, R. I., Nov. 7th.—Early returns from the state election in this state indicate the re-election of Governor George H. Utter, Republican, by a plurality slightly over 1,000 votes. A republican legislature in both branches is assured.

NEW JERSEY IS REPUBLICAN.

Trenton, N. J., Nov. 7th. Late returns indicate that the Republicans will gain probably three State Senators and increase their representation in the upper house of the assembly from 14 to 17 out of a total of 21. The House will remain about the same as last year with probably a loss of one or two Republican assemblymen. Last year there were 45 Republicans to 15 Democrats in the House.

REPUBLICANS SWEEP CHICAGO.

Chicago, Nov. 7th.—The Republicans made a clean sweep of the election in Chicago and Cook county today, electing all of their candidates with the exception of one man. The sole Democrat to reach the promised land was Webb, a candidate for trustee of the sanitary district.

THREE KILLED 13 INJURED!

The Workmen Who Went Into a Bank Building Hunt Escaping Gas

BLOWN OUT A WINDOW

By the Terrible Explosion which Followed and Landed in a Box Car Uninjured.

OTHERS WERE NOT SO FORTUNATE

Detroit, Nov. 6.—News from Ishpeming, Mich., says: Three children are dead and thirteen people injured, one fatally, as the result of an explosion here yesterday which completely destroyed the Miners' National bank.

A gas leak in the basement of the bank building was primarily responsible for the explosion and the loss of life. Gas was detected coming from the building and two workmen went into the basement about 9 o'clock with lighted candles to investigate. The flames evidently ignited the gas in the basement, for a tremendous explosion followed. The two workmen were blown through a basement window and landed uninjured in an open box car standing on a nearby track. The building was completely wrecked. The three children killed were passing the building on their way home from church and were caught in the falling debris.

The explosion broke windows in many stores in the business district and scattered the papers and documents of the bank for blocks around.

Most of the victims were church attendants on the way home from mass.

Anderson and Peterson, steam fitters, had been engaged to make repairs to the heating plant, and as they entered the building they detected the smell of gas. They thought little of the circumstance, however, as they passed into the furnace room they struck a match to light a gas jet. There was a teorible explosion. The steam fitters were blown through the door at the rear of the building, while the building collapsed, falling into the street a mass of ruins.

A crew was switching cars on a side track near the bank and cars blocked the crossing when the explosion occurred. Many persons were standing on the walk awaiting the passing of the cars, and thus were within reach of the explosion. There were a number of narrow escapes from death or serious injury.

James Mullen was in his office in the bank building when the accident occurred and he was not taken from the debris until the rescuers had worked for two hours in clearing away the wreckage. The bodies of the killed were fearfully mangled.

The safety deposit vault in the bank is uninjured. The entrance to it is in a two foot stone wall which separated the bank building from the Jenks block, in which the vault is situated.

The Robison—Morgan Wedding.

Dr. John I. Robison returned home on Tuesday and surprised his frinds by bringing with him a bride.

The wedding took place on the evening of October 26 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Morgan in Scranton, Pa. Miss Margaret Louise Morgan, the daughter and bride of the occasion wore a beautiful gown of gray chiffon over silk trimmed with Irish point lace, and her maid Miss Gertrude Jean Morgan a sister of the bride was similarly attired. The best man was Mr. Howard Shaw, of Scranton. The ceremony was a quiet one only the immediate friends and relatives being present. Rev. S. Wrightnour, D. D. of the First Baptist church

The home was beautifully decorated with roses and carnations, and the bride and bridesmaid each carried a bunch of chrysanthemums.

A wedding supper was served after which the newly married couple left for a brief honey moon trip in the east.

Dr. Robison has recently fitted up his home with comfortable consulting and operating rooms and incidentally beautified his parlors, without intimating to his friends that he intended to take unto himself a life companion.—State College Times.

MET A TERRIBLE DEATH

Ambrose Gill Cut to Pieces in Threshing Machine.

A terrible accident occurred at the Henry Gentzel farm near Zion Thursday. The men on the farm were threshing when Ambrose Gill fell into the cylinder of the threshing machine and was injured so badly that he died as a result.

Young Gill was standing on a plank above the machine when he missed his footing and plunged into the thresher. His right arm was torn off and he was terribly mutilated about the face and body. His death was instantaneous: A piece of an iron wheel flew off and lodged in the machinery and stopped the thresher.

Ambrose Gill was the son of Amos Gill and was 21 years of age.

DIED IN THE HOSPITAL!

Charles J. Davlin, a Kansas Coal Operator Who Recently Failed.

LIABILITIES $5,000,000

Had Been a Sufferer from Paralysis and Leaves a Wife and Five Children.

HEAD OF TWENTY-SIX COMPANIES

Chicago, Ill, November 2.—Charles I. Devlin, the widely known coal mine operator who recently underwent bankruptcy with liabilities of over $5,000,000, died at St. Elizabeth's hospital shortly before midnight Wednesday night as the result of a stroke of paralysis.

He suffered a similar stroke last summer. He had been at the hospital several days with his wife and children. He was in ill health on his arrival in Chicago from New York and went direct to St. Elizabeth's.

Tuesday he was attacked with a rush of blood to the head and despite the efforts of surgeons succumbed to brain hemorrhage. Mr. Devlin was 52 years old and leaves a widow and five children. His body will be taken to Lasalle, Illinois.

Kansas City, Mo., November 2.—Charles J. Devlin, who died at Chicago Wednesday night, was before his failure in July last generally credited with being one of the wealthiest men in Kansas.

He was at the head of twenty-six different companies, coal mining enterprises and mercantile establishments in Kansas, Missouri, Illinois and other states. For many years he was one of the most active business men in the southwest. His wealth consisted largely in coal mining property in southern Kansas, in the vicinity of Marceline, Mo., and Illinois. They included the Mount Carmel coal mines, the Toluca coal mines, the Marquette third vein mines, the Devlin Coal company, the Devlin—Miller Coal company and the Southwestern Fuel company.

As the result of overwork Mr. Devlin collapsed last summer and while papers were being drawn up at Kansas City to form a corporation intended to take over and maintain his visit enterprises, the First National bank at Topeka, Kan., of which he was a principal stockholder, failed, owing depositors over $1,000,000, the estate of Kansas over $5,000,000, the city of Topeka $40,000, and various banks and concerns several hundred thousand dollars additional. The bank was found to hold close to $1,000,000 of Devlin paper, and its failure caused runs on several Topeka banks and caused the failure of one Kansas City bank that held his paper.

The failure of the First National bank of Topeka put a stop to the incorporation of Devlin's properties and, instead Devlin went into bankruptcy. The report of Devlin's receiver made on October 19th placed his liabilities at 65.631.000.

Two months ago Mr. Devlin went to Europe for his health, and only recently returned to New York. When he died at Chicago he was on his way to his home at Topeka.

And a long pull describes the pathway of a woman afflicted with female weakness unless she is under the care of a doctor who has had successful experience in the treatment of such cases or else has found the right remedy which can be safely used independently of the doctor.

Forty years ago, Dr. R. V. Pierce found that women were being grossly maltreated—mainly through ignorance and carelessness, and he determined to devote himself to study and research till he found the real cause of their suffering and a proper remedy for it.

He found it, and dug from Nature's Laboratory, the earth, Nature's remedies for woman's weaknesses and ailments. He found in Lady's Slipper root, Black Cohosh root, Unicorn root, Blue Cohosh root and Golden Seal root, the required ingredients.

The remedial virtues of these he extracted, combined and preserved by his own peculiar non-alcoholic, glyceric processes, and the compound is now known the world over, as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

"The wearing of corsets too tight seemed to have brought on an abdominal pressure, weakening the ligaments and resulting in displacement, which troubled me until I was not fit to walk, and at times could hardly stand," writes Mrs. Beverly Sitgreaves, of 124 Fulton St., San Francisco, Cal. "A neighbor advised me to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Before the first bottle was used I felt much better. Improvement went steadily on, and within four months I was like a new and well woman once more. I am now perfectly well and strong, and extremely grateful to you for your blessed remedy—a boon to sick women."

CHANGE IN A NATIONAL SONG

Why the Swiss Decided to Adopt a New Anthem.

It is not often that a nation changes its national hymn, says Reynolds' Newspaper. The Swiss have, however, formally announced their intention of so doing and of adopting the less well known Swiss psalm, or "Cantique Suisse," instead of the hitherto universally sung "O Monts Independants."

The reason of this change is that the latter has always been rendered to Carey's melody of "God Save the King," which is identical also with the German "Heil Dir im Siegerkranz," and the Swiss are beginning to find this sameness too confusing. Henceforward, therefore, they will change their tune to one which shall be theirs only, and indeed the melody accompanying the words "Sur nos monts quand le soleil," etc., of the "Cantique Suisse" is if anything more inspiring than the old one.

It is also by a true son of the Alps, one Zwyssig, to whom a monument was erected on the Lake of the "Four Cantons" a few years ago. That the "late" national anthem can have had but a small hold on the people's affections is proved by the way the "new" one is readily accepted on all sides.

CORNELL BOYS MUST SWIM.

New Order Makes Swimming Requirement For Graduation.

"In view of the fact that recent wars have conclusively demonstrated that a soldier who cannot swim is so much dead timber in the command, and the United States now refuses to graduate from West Point or Annapolis cadets who are unable to swim, no student will be credited with a passing mark for the spring term's drill who has not previously passed an examination in swimming satisfactory to the professor of physical culture."

This order, recently issued by Captain Frank A. Barton, commandant of the corps of cadets of Cornell university, practically makes swimming a requirement for graduation from Cornell, says a special dispatch from Ithaca, N. Y., to the New York Globe. Military drill is required of all male students in four year courses.

The rule is thus far reaching in its effects and makes Cornell the only college in the country to require a swimming test for the satisfactory completion of its courses.

Paper Waistcoats to Prevent Chills.

An Englishman in Paris named Crabbe has invented a paper waistcoat, which is designed as a protection against chills, says a Paris correspondent of the London Express. The garment weighs only an ounce and a half and can be folded so as to go into an ordinary envelope. It is made in one piece, with holes for the head and arms. The inventor, who is an adept in the manipulation of paper, has made pajamas, socks, bed boots, hearth rugs and various articles of general utility. He looks forward to the time when he will be dressed entirely in paper garments.

A Woman's Straight Throw.

Miss Lillie Linville, a clerk at Anderson, Ind., has been declared a heroine because she killed a rat, while other women in the store screamed with fright when the rodent scampered over the floor, says a dispatch from Anderson, Ind. She cornered the rat between some barrels and some baskets. Then the rat attempted to escape, but Miss Linville quickly picked up a large turnip and accurately threw it at the rat with velocity enough to kill it. The scared women came down from the counters, seats and chairs. When her employer heard of the exploit he raised her salary and bought another supply of turnips.

HICKS FOR NOVEMBER.

Predictions as to the Weather by the Widely Famous Prognosticator.

The first storm period is central on the 6th, extending from the 4th to the 9th. After two to four days of cool, fair, frosty weather, say about the 5th, the barometer will begin falling in the west, change to cloudy and warmer will attend the falling barometer, and autumnal rains, probably ending in snow, will pass eastwardly over the country during the 6th, 7th and 8th. The regular rise of barometer and change to much cooler, clearing weather will follow closely on the western side of the storm areas,

The second storm period is central on the 11th and 12th. Change to warmer, falling barometer, southerly winds, growing cloudiness and more autumnal rains will make their transit from west to east across the country, on and touching the 11th and 12th. Watch for the threatening conditions named above—conditions that go before all storms; watch, also, for the change to colder, with northwesterly winds, rising barometer, and clearing, freezing weather at night, sure to follow from the west after the storms.

The third storm period is central on the 17th, covering the 15th to the 19th. About the time of this period it will be wise to expect some very decided autumnal storms and gales. Low barometric pressure, on any part of land, lake or sea, will be an unusually sure harbinger of forceful atmospheric disturbances. We predict that the north Atlantic, on the high sea and touching the coasts on both sides, will be visited by high if not destructive gales, at this or one of the remaining periods in November. A November cold wave will follow this period, covering the north, and affecting materially weather conditions quite into the south.

The fourth storm period is central on the 22nd and 23rd. The disturbance of this period will begin as early as the 21st with falling barometer and threatening weather. On and about the 22nd and 23rd general storms will be in progress from west to east, with indications good for very stormy weather for the balance of the month. If general storms have not visited land and sea at either of the last named, two periods, it may be set down as almost an absolute certainty that wide and violent disturbances will appear during the last two periods, and that these two will be prolonged and intensified as to make almost one continuous time of perturbations.

Ted's Beginning.

The new assistant rector was trying to impress upon the mind of his young son the difference between his own position and that of his superior. "Now, Ted," he ended, "I want you to remember to be very polite to the rector. We are strangers, and I am only the assistant; it becomes us to be extremely courteous. Some day, perhaps, I shall be rector myself."

The next day the boy was walking with his father when they met the dignified rector.

"Hello!" promptly began Ted. "Pop's been tellin' me 'bout you—how you're the real thing, an' he's just the hired man an' we got to knuckle under. But some day he may be i. his self, an', then you'd see!"—Woman's Home Companion for November.

CAPTIVATED BY CHOATE.

Ex-Ambassador's Diplomacy When Boys Menaced His Disabled Auto.

Score one more to the list of Joseph H. Choate's diplomatic triumphs, says a special dispatch from Great Barrington, Mass., to the New York World. It was accomplished while the ex-ambassador to the court of St. James sat by the roadside the other afternoon gazing upon his disabled automobile. His country place in Stockbridge, Mass., was several miles distant, entirely too far to walk. Night was creeping on apace.

Small boys drew near by ones and twos. They like not the rich man's auto, out of whose way they have to dodge. They have even been known to throw stones. Here was a crippled bark, and the captain, sitting on the bank, afforded a fair mark.

Disparaging remarks soon were heard from the gathering clan. The auto was vilified, the chauffeur lying beneath the machine trying to make repairs was ridiculed, and then the foe turned its fire of words on "the guy sitting down." Hotter and hotter grew the blast of irrelevant comment. Mr. Choate moved about uneasily. Then he arose with all the grace which has won the admiration of distinguished statesmen.

"Don't go, boys," he said cheerily as signs of retreat were manifest. He held the attention of the little army from the outset. He told incident after incident until mouths were opened and little eyes shone as big as saucers. The address terminated with an appeal in behalf of good citizenship.

A later comer recognized the speaker as Mr. Choate, and the word was quickly passed. The ex-ambassador, his audience completely won over, stepped into the car and sped swiftly away. Back of him in the roadway the coal heaver the little clan yelling, "Rah fo Choate!" until the ... of earshot.

TRAVEL IN HIGH FIGURES

Equal to Fourteen Trips Around the World in Fifteen Years.

Dr. W. B. Diefenderfer, of Tyrone, medical examiner at Altoona for the Pennsylvania Railroad Voluntary Relief department, completed fifteen years, service with the department yesterday, and in recognition of the anniversary midway in his second decennium he entertained the members of his office staff at a dinner at the Logan House. This group of guests comprised Drs. Corson, Golden, Baumbauer and Olmstead assistant examiners; and William Kennedy and Clark Woodford, clerks. The occasion was a very pleasant one.

During his fifteen years service with the Pennsylvania Railroad Relief department Dr. Diefenderfer has been stationed successively at Philadelphia, Pittsburg, York, Tyrone and Altoona. In that time he has traveled 352,065 miles, an average of 23,471 miles a year; that is, he has traveled each year by rail a distance nearly equal to a trip around the globe. During the fifteen years he has examined 5,639 cases for his department, an average of 376 each year; and during the past year the number of his personal examinations was 876.

Dr. Diefenderfer was examiner in Tyrone until last May when he became the department representative at Altoona, the largest district in the service with respect to number of employes and examinations. His force comprises four assistant examiners and two clerks, and in their district are about 14,000 employes of the great railroad company. The average number of cases of disability from sickness and accident, under their attention each day, is 450, and of these they receive an average of 35 new cases daily. The scope of the Altoona district's work may be realized from the fact that last month Dr. Diefenderfer and his assistants made 21 per cent of all the examinations made in the entire service of the P. R. R. Voluntary Relief department. Dr. Diefenderfer and his staff occupy a convenient suit of rooms in the Logan House, and their offices are among the very busiest in the great railroad city.

FULL MEANING OF CZAR'S SURRENDER

James Creelman Explains Grant of Liberty to Russians.

ROMANOFF ABSOLUTISM CRUSHED

Consent of the People Necessary Before Czar Can Enforce Any Decree. His Surrender Wipes Out at One Stroke All the Agencies That Enslaved His People.

To understand the immensity of the czar's surrender to his people it is necessary to know that even the new Russian prime minister, Count Witte, who secured the imperial signature to Russia's "Magna Charta," has been a firm defender of autocracy and as recently as his visit to the United States declared his belief that greater and more desirable reforms could be brought about by an honest and intelligent absolutism than through loose and premature experiments in constitutional and legislative government, says James Creelman in the New York World.

Witte came to America this year believing there was no middle class in his country and that, without such a bridge between the corrupt, arrogant aristocracy and the ignorant, scattered and inert peasantry, constitutional government would be a farce.

He went back to find that organized labor, working under the advice of experienced labor leaders from other European countries, notably Germany, had taken the places of the old conception of a middle class.

The most powerful despotism in the world, with more than a million armed men at its command, has crumbled in the presence of a comparatively peaceful strike of the factory and railroad employees led in many instances by young students.

The unchangeable guarantee of "freedom of conscience," read in the light of Witte's written plea for "equality before the laws of all Russians, without distinction of race or religion"—a document which the czar inscribed "To be taken for a guide"—not only removes the cruel and unjust disabilities of the 7,000,000 Russian Jews, but paralyzes the political power of the Holy Orthodox church, that terrible and relentless system which has thus far prevented the education of the Russian masses.

No one who has lived in Russia can doubt that with the disappearance of the exclusive mediæval prerogatives of the Orthodox church—to proselytize or to secede from which was a grave crime—the mightiest bulwark of oppression falls.

This will clear the way for a genuine free public school system and compulsory education.

The creation of a Russian parliament, with real legislative rather than advisory powers—a body without whose consent no law can be enforced in the empire—gains its supreme value in the fact that virtually universal suffrage has been granted.

To appreciate the difference between this new scheme of representative government and the advisory douma provided for in the imperial manifesto of August it is only necessary to recall the fact that under the plan by which the douma was to be elected St. Petersburg, with 1,500,000 inhabitants, would have only 9,500 voters, including 137 Jews, and Moscow, with more than 1,000,000 inhabitants, would have only 11,000 voters. It was intended that in rural communities the 90,000,000 peasants should have altogether 2,505 votes, as against 1,972 of the landed proprietors and 1,354 of the municipal councils.

With the extension of the right to vote to the masses of Russia one gets an idea of the proportions of the czar's surrender expressed in "an unchangeable rule that no law shall be enforceable without the approval of the state douma."

Up to this time the sole legislative and executive power has been the personal will of the czar. Henceforth he cannot enforce a single decree without the consent of his people.

The guarantee of the right of habeas corpus and of "inviolability of the person" sweeps away at a single stroke the dreadful system of secret arrest, secret trial and secret deportation. It robs the minister of the interior and his police of their terrors.

With free speech and the right of association and union, political parties may be formed and the future of Russia worked out in the open.

Nothing is said about trial by jury, but the new parliament will have power to provide for that.

Hitherto there has been no cabinet, no ministerial responsibility. The absolute czar dealt with his ministers separately. The particular minister who happened to gain ascendancy over his sovereign's mind became for the time the real ruler. He could interfere with and control any or all departments of the government. Sometimes it was the minister of finance who ruled, sometimes the minister of the interior and sometimes the minister of war. The ministers plotted against each other. They seldom worked together.

The new cabinet must work in accord with the prime minister, Count Witte, and the people of Russia, through their parliament, will probably be able, as in Great Britain, to compel their sovereign to dismiss his min... ent

... parliament will be the abolition of the dvornik system, that ... ry and degrading arrangement under which every household in Russia, rich or poor, must accept the presence of a dvornik, or spy, responsible to the police for a full account of the daily life, the conversations, opinions and movements of those whom he is set to watch.

Less than a million organized workingmen have brought about this greatest political revolution in modern history. And the most extraordinary thing about it is the demonstrated power of an industrial strike practically divorced from violence. The Russian soldiers who fired upon rioters only a few months ago could not be trusted to kill orderly, peaceable strikers.

Bashfulness may sometimes exclude pleasure, but seldom opens any avenue to sorrow or remorse.—Johnson.

Cane Fad For Women.

Tiny canes will be inseparable companions of the fair sex this fall, says the New York Press. Although every little while the fad has been tried without success, it has been adopted so strenuously in Lenox that the season is likely to be a record one for women's walking sticks. Mme. Hengelmueller, wife of the Austrian ambassador, soon after she arrived in Lenox this autumn was seen wending her way about with a small white cane. She never forgot it or left it at home and even carried it on her frequent trips to the Lenox club or to the postoffice. Of course her fad found many followers, for those who hadn't dared try it before felt no hesitancy now that they could find themselves in such good company, and canes became accepted with morning attire. Among those who carry them are Miss Charlotte Barnes, who brought one from abroad which is trimmed with a huge bow of ribbon; Miss Constance Bacon, whose walking stick is the identical luxury with the bow, and Mrs. Archibald Mackay.

Penrose's Prompt Denial.

This is Senator Penrose's signed statement which effectually nailed the lie, circulated for political purposes, that he had a note in the Enterprise Bank:

BEAUTY MORE THAN SKIN DEEP.

A Good Complexion Must Come From Within

The natural desire of every ambitious woman is to have a clear skin and a beautiful complexion. Not every woman can be a Dana or Juno, but the beauty of freshness and the bloom of a clear skin are within the reach of every woman who will make the effort.

It is all a matter of intelligent trying. If the bowels are inactive, if the liver is not working properly, if the poisonous waste and refuse are not expelled promptly from the system the complexion is sure to show the effects.

The only right way to remove pimples, moth spots and blotches and clear up a muddy, cloudy complexion is to go right to the root of the trouble with the proper remedy.

The one remedy that will cure constipation, improve the complexion, brighten the eyes, tone up the liver, cure sick headache and insure a clear velvety skin is Laxakola Tonic Tablets.

To inspire confidence, and to protect both you and the druggist, we have issued a Guarantee Contract to Mr. Parrish authorizing him to pay back the 25 cents if the tablets do not benefit you as claimed.

ANOTHER ARREST WAS MADE

Dr. P. D. McLeod, of Boston, Said to be Connected With Suit Case Mystery.

IN DURANCE VILE

He is Held on the Charge of Having Dismembered the Body of Susan Geary the Chorus Girl.

CRAWFORDS CONFESSION MADE PUBLIC

Boston, November 4—Dr. Percy D. McLeod, of this city, was arrested Friday afternoon on the charge of abortion in connection with the suit case mystery. The arrest was on information furnished by Chief Watts from New York. Dr. McLeod is held on the charge that he was the person who dismembered the body of Susan Geary.

A telephone message was received here from Superintendent Pierce at New York that a confession had been obtained both from Crawford and Howard. In this, it is alleged, the men stated that the bag containing the head of the victim had been dropped from the East Boston ferry boat about two minutes after the vessel had left the East Boston slip. The head of Miss Geary, according to the confession, is in the girl's own hand bag, which was weighted with shot to sink it.

Dr. McLeod is registered as a member of the Massachusetts medical society.

A conference between Dr. McLeod and the officials was held. At its conclusion Dr. McLeod was removed to the tombs and locked up. Captain Dugan stated that Dr. McLeod had made a confession. Mr. Lane, attorney for Dr. McLeod, said he expected his client would spend the night at the tombs and that Dr. McLeod would undoubtedly be brought into court today so that the question of bail might be passed upon.

Dr. McLeod is about thirty-five years of age and is married.

Chief Watts informed the officials here that the confession of Crawford in New York included the specific accusation that Dr. McLeod was the person who dismembered the body of the chorus girl. Immediately upon receipt of this message the physician was arrested.

From Captain Dugan it was learned that last Monday night two headquarters inspectors visited Dr. McLeod at his home. They drove him to the office of Pawnbroker Berkman who sold the suit cases. The pawnbroker had stated that Dr. McLeod "looked like the man who purchased the cases."

Dr. McLeod has not been released on bail. District Attorney Sughrue was at his office until late Friday afternoon. Just before leaving for his home he left instructions with Captain Dugan to call him by telephone in the event that bondsmen for Dr. McLeod appeared. In speaking of the matter the district attorney said that the amount of bail had not been fixed.

"It may be $5,000," said Mr. Sughrue, and it may be $10,000. The gravity of the case demands a substantial sum. Dr. McLeod's appearance must be insured."

EARLE C. TUTEN.

EDITORIAL.

Henry Kline is only the second republican to be elected sheriff of Centre county since war times. The other republican was Robert Cook of Howard.

The defeat of Miller, Hall and Swartz is to be regretted by all well thinking people. They deserved better things.

By the election of Earl C. Tuten the republicans for the first time in forth-two years have captured the office of Register of Centre county.

A Witty Child.

Little Geraldine McCann, who is the bright particular feature with Wm. Francis Burke at the head of the Burk-McCann Company, is possessed of a natural vein of droll wit. Among the many little incidents which have brought it to light is one told of an occurance in a fashionable cafe in Pittsburg, where she with a number of the company were enjoying lunch after the show. Her personality and smart repartee soon attracted the attention of some traveling men one of them being less prudent than his and ignoring the fact that he had not been formally presented to the little actress, ventured to inquire her profession. She quickly replied in the vernacular of the stage that she was a "trooper." Still undaunted, the knight of the grip again asked what salary she received, whereupon Geraldine, after swallowing a raw oyster and reaching for another, replied with a satisfied smile, "I'm getting it now." This sharp response was greeted with shouts of laughter, much to the discomfort and at the expense of the questioner, who, however, took it in good spirits and assumed courage to ask a question which surely no really gallant male should ever ask a member of the gentler sex, her age. With a sly wink and a conscious smile "the little magnet," without a moment's hesitation, said: "Well according to the family Bible I am ten, on the trolley cars they take me for five, but you can bet your life "I'm over seven." By this time Geraldine had finished her lunch and taking her father's hand, bid all a cherry good night, but the party of drummers sat long and late, unanimously proclaiming her the brightest child they had ever seen, and such will be the verdict of all who see her at the Garman Opera house during the coming week Nov. 13th.

The Dolls Bazar and Fair.

The Fair will open on Wednesday Nov. 15th in W. C. T. U.— Room in "The Petriki." Dolls of all sizes and descriptions will delight the children. We have dolls from Rome, Germany, Lucerne in Switzerland, Holland and many little souveniers presented by a good friend members whose summer was spent in Europe, sight seeing but not too busy to remember the busy ones at home. Then we are to have Bellefonte dolls. Just the most beautiful sensible kind that never needs sending to the Hospital and will last to hand down to Posterity, (with reasonable care). There will also be a beautiful line of shwls, slippers, sewing bags, party bags, and other desirable articles for Xmas gifts, not forgetting the old stand-by aprons. Come early and see the opening, but bear in mind it is not a "rummage sale" and while prices will be as reasonable as possible. This kind of a Fair is not a cheap one to get up but then it will help you without so much Xmas worry. And in the end not be any harder on your pocket-book. Please send your donations in by not later than Monday to Mrs. Dr. VanTries, Miss Mary Blanchard or Mrs. J. P. Harris.

Many Persons Have Catarrh of Kidneys, Or Catarrh of Bladder and Don't Know It.

President Newhof and War Correspondent Richards Were Promptly Cured By Pe-ru-na.

Mr. C. B. Newhof, 10 Delamare street, Albany, N. Y., President Montefiore Club, writes:

"Since my advanced age I find that I have been frequently troubled with urinary ailments. The bladder seemed irritated, and my physician said that it was catarrh caused by a protracted cold which would be difficult to overcome on account of my advanced years. I took Peruna, hardly daring to believe that I would be helped, but I found to my relief that I soon began to mend. The irritation gradually subsided and the urinary difficulties passed away. I have enjoyed excellent health now for the past seven months. I enjoy my meals, sleep soundly, and am as well as I was twenty years ago. I give all praise to Peruna."--C. B. Newhof.

Suffered From Catarrh of Kidneys, Threatened With Nervous Collapse, Cured by Pe-ru-na.

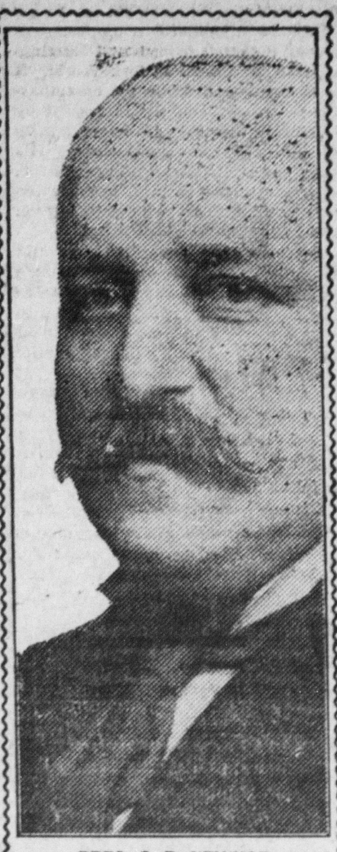
Mr. F. B. Richards, 609 E Street, N. W., Washington, D. C., War Correspondent, writes: "Exactly six years ago I was ordered to Cuba as staff correspondent of the New York Sun. I was in charge of a Sun Dispatch boat through the Spanish American War. The effect of the tropical climate and the nervous strain showed plainly on my return to the states. Lassitude, depression to the verge of melancholia, and incessant kidney trouble made me practically an invalid. This undesirable condition continued, despite the best of treatment.

Finally a brother newspaper man, who like myself had served in the war, induced me to give a faithful trial to Peruna. I did so. In a short time the lassitude left me, my kidneys resumed a healty condition, and a complete cure was effected. I cannot too strongly recommend Peruna to those suffering with kidney trouble. To-day I am able to work as hard as at any time in my life, and the examiner for a leading insurance company pronounced me an "A risk."

In Poor Health Over Four Years. Pe-ru-na Only Remedy of Real Benefit.

Mr. John Nimmo, 215 Lippincott St., Toronto, Can., a prominent merchant of that city and also a member of the Masonic order, writes:

"I have been in poor health generally for over four years. When I caught a bad cold last winter it settled in the bladder and kidneys, causing serious trouble. I took two greatly advertised kidney remedies without getting the desired results. Peruna is the only remedy which was really of any benefit to me. I have not had a trace of kidney trouble nor a cold in my system."



PRES. C. B. NEWHOF, Suffered From Catarrh of Bladder.

Pe-ru-na Contains No Narcotics.

One reason why Peruna has found permanent use in so many homes is that it contains no narcotics of any kind. Peruna is perfectly harmless. It can be used any length of time without acquiring a drug habit. Peruna does not produce temporary results. It is permanent in its effect.

It has no bad effect upon the system, and gradually eliminates catarrh by removing the cause of catarrh. There are a multitude of homes where Peruna has been used off and on for twenty years. Such a thing could not be possible if Peruna contained any drugs of a narcotic nature.

The Companion as a Christmas Gift.

Can you think of a gift more certain to be accepted than a year's subscription to The Youth's Companion? SERVICE STRIPES.

May be Adopted Soon by the Pennsylvania Railroad.

There is a discussion going the rounds on the Pennsy Railroad that the transportation officials have a plan under consideration to award stripes or some other sort of insigia to uniformed employes. The scheme is only in its infancy, and there is no assurance that it will ever be carried out.

The Pennsylvania has been foremost of all the big railroads of the country to recognize the long service of its employes. It was the first to adopt a first-class pension system. Among the transportation department heads, the opinions are said to be about equally divided as to the advisibility of taking any further plan for recognizing length of service, and the opposition may yet suppress the project before it takes definite form.

The plan may be laid before the employes who would be affected for a vote, if the management as a whole approve it.

Would You?

If you were the hired girl—

Would you like to serve five breakfasts between 7 and 8 o'clock and be rebuked if they were not all hot and crisp?

Would you like to warm up dinner, after your dishes were all washed, to oblige a careless member of the family who had not been working, but had merely stopped for a little longer chat with a friend?

Would you like to hear your mistress discuss your shortcomings with every stranger within her gates?

Would you feel inclined to handle silverware, cut glass and dainty china with loving care when the room in which you rested and slept looked either like a poor house dormitory or an incipient rummage sale?—Buffalo Courier.

Why He Disliked the Man.

I once heard of a man who, discussing name on the visiting list, said to wife: "You know perfectly well that I don't like that man."

"Don't you think you are a little unreasonable?" asked the wife. Your dislike because he did not answer a letter you wrote him, and you found afterward that the letter was hung up all summer in the pocket of your overcoat and was never sent to him at all."

"Yes I know that," was the rejoinder, "but it was so long before I found it out that I couldn't overlook his rudeness, and I never forgave him, and I don't believe I ever shall." There is a good deal of ill-feeling in this world that is without any firmer foundation.

Sale of Game Prohibited

No game bird that is a native of Pennsylvania can be sold in the markets of this state. The sale of ruffed grouse, commonly known as pheasants, is forbidden in this state unless it is shipped in from some other state, but inasmuch as all other states have enacted laws imposing fines upon persons who ship ruffed grouse out of the state for sale, it can be easily seen that the law has been violated and is a misdemeanor. Scotch grouse or any foreign bird may, however, be sold. Rabbits may also be sold in market.

Uses for Beads.

That beads are still in fashion the New York girl knows, for hasn't she spied them woven in new shapes and posing as ornaments in odd and unexpected places? For instance, a smart hat of shadded taffeta silk with an odd little plush bowl crown, which took her fancy, she was surprised to see it had as its chief touch of novelty a shield-shaped medallion made of many colored beads, so arranged on the canvas foundation that they formed a conventionalized flower. The medallion was used seemingly to hold a cluster of wings in place.—Grace Margaret Gould in the Woman's Companion for November.

A Foxey Buyer.

A Woman without a parallel for commercial wit entered a large department store in New York city to buy a yard of silk, which the clerk told her would cost 75 cents. Her purchase left a remnant of a yard and a half. The clerk suggested that she buy the remnant. "What will you take for it?" asked the woman. "Fifty cents, madam," replied the clerk positively. "Well, I'll take it, but you can keep the yard you've just torn off," The clerk was staggered for a moment, but appreciating the humor of the proposal, made the exchange.

One Extra Sunday this Year.

There will be 53 Sundays in this year an occurrence that will not happen again for 110 years. This extra Sunday can be utilized in attending church, calling on your best girl, reading the scripture, playing with the children, breaking a two-year old colt, or some other way. One hundred and ten years from this date you will probably be paying the penalty or enjoying the pleasures of the method in which you choose to spend this extra Sunday.

Cats Just Rained on Kittenless Man.

Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 7.—"Wanted—Cats, good mousers preferred; kittens bought; bring in basket or box. J. R. Swift, 500 Westinghouse Building, Pittsburg."

Several days ago Mr. Swift remarked casually to several other officers of the Westinghouse Company, that he would like to have a nice kitten. It was an awful opening, and they took advantage of it. The result was that the advertisement above quoted appeared in the Pittsburg papers Saturday morning.

When the elevator man stopped counting them that evening, there were 794 cats of various breeds in the Westinghouse Building, and they were still coming when he refused to take up any more prospective selves. Long before Swift had left for his home in a cab.

The janitor of the building is now trying to figure out what he will do with the supply of cats, as many of the owners refused to take them back.

Hornets Came to Life.

The family of Daniel Peters at Hecla Park, had an amusing experience with a hornetnest one day last week. Mr. Peters who is section foreman on the Central railroad, while at work on his division found a large hornet's nest in the bushes along the track, and thinking it would make a novel ornament for his house carried it home and after exhibiting it to his friends and family, placed it on the parlor table for further exhibition purposes.

The next day, about noon, a buzzing noise was heard in the region of the parlor, and when some one ventured to open the door leading to that room they were met by a volley of hornets and in an instant the house was alive with them, which the warmth of the room had brought to life, a general rough house and scramble for the doors was next in order with the pesky little insects in hot pursuit, and when Mr. Peters came home to dinner a few minutes later, he found his family batting for possession of the house, while his better-half stood at the gate with the appearance of having had a severe attack of toothache,

Boys Drink Champaign Whisky; One is Dead.

Champaign whisky was responsible for the death of 14 year old Charles Nicholson, at Connellsville. George Echard, 18 years old, his chum, is in a serious condition from the use of the same stuff.

The two boys stole a jug containing liquor from a buggy belonging to Rufus Christner and David Kalp, champaigners, who were making a tour of Saltlick township. The boys took the liquor to a secluded spot, where they drank liberally of its contents. Both were unconscious when found.

Nicholson was taken to the home of his grandmother, where he died a few hours later. A stomach pump was used on Echard, and he will recover.

For Old Sweethearts.

A little way to walk with you, my own—
Only a little way.
Then one of us must weep and walk alone
Until God's day.

A little way! it is so sweet to live together, that I know
Life would not have one withered rose to give
If one of us should go,

And if these lips should ever learn to smile,
With thy heart far from mine,
'Twould be for joy that in a little while
They would be kissed by thine!

The Academy Wins.

The Bellefonte Academy defeated the "Good Will" team of Philipsburg on Saturday at Philipsburg by the close score of 9-6 or a goal from the field and a touchdown to a goal from a touchdown.

The Academy boys played the best game of the season, using headwork, pluck and speed to advantage against a team that was heavier and better drilled. The star player for the Academy was Pantall who made the touchdown and kicked the goal from the field, but the faultless playing of every Academy player made these points possible.

A Thanksgiving Pudding

Just shelve yours for a season while you try this one. Pour four cupfuls of hot scalded milk over one fourth cupfuls of rolled common crackers, and let stank until cool. Add one cupful of sugar, four eggs slightly beaten, one-half of a grated nutmeg, one teaspoonful of salt, and one-third of a cupful of melted butter. Parboil one and one-third cupfuls of raisins until soft by cooking in boiling water to cover seed, and add to the mixture. GIRL'S GRIT WON A FARM.

She Had to Ride on Cowcatcher to Reach the Land Office.

In the rush of filers at the Cass Lake, Minn., land office for government tracts, Miss Edna McGarry attained celebrity. She was twenty-two miles from the office and to secure her claim it was neccesary for her to be at the filing place when the doors were opened.

The young woman hurried to the station at Walker and attempted to travel by freight train to Cass Lake. She was promptly put off under the regulation that freight trains must not carry passengers.

Then she skirted the long line of freight and logging cars until she reached the puffing and greasy engine. Grasping the pilot, she swung herself upon it. No one had seen her, and in a few moments the train was under way.

When Wilkinson station was reached Miss McGarry was discovered and a second attempt made to keep her off the train. But the railroad men could not long deny the plucky girl with so worthy a purpose, and eventually she won the day and came into Cass Lake on the train in ample time to make her filing on the land.

It is said that no contest can now lie against her claim. Sheer pluck has won Miss MaGarry a farm.—New York World.

Romantic Wedding in Frozen North.

Tacoma, Wash., Nov. 7th.—One of the most interesting of the many Klondike romances had its culmination two weeks ago, when Edward Conrad was married to Charlotte Ripstorff, who traveled 7000 miles from Hamburg, Germany, to marry a man she had never seen.

Her brother, Henry Ripstorff, has been Conrad's intimate friend for three years. From his sister Ripstorff received letters so full of tender messages and solicitations as to awaken the keenest interest of Conrad, who heard them read by Ripstorff before their cabin fire. He asked and received permisson to write to her. Photos were exchanged, and before long they were engaged.

Selling his mining interests, Conrad opened a confectionery store in Dawson and continued to prosper. Last spring a draft was sent to Hamburg, and Miss Ripstorff started for Dawson, arriving late in July. For several weeks she was her brothers guest. In September she was married to Conrad by the Rev. John Pringle, of the Presbyterian church.

Miss Ripstorff comes from a good German family and will be heir to an estate in Hamberge when her parents die. Conrad has been in the Klondike since crossing the Chilkoot trail eight years ago. Previously he lived in Alameda, where he has lately purchased a new home for his parents.

Tied to Track.

Mount Vernon, O., Nov, 6.—Paul Barber, a Zeta Alpha freshman, has, according to Prosecuting Attorney Stillwell, given the most important testimony so far secured in the secret inquest into the death of young Stuart Pierson, the Kenyon College student, who was killed by an engine on the railroad track at Gambier last Saturday night. Barber, it is said, testified that he lay bound and blindfolded on the track not 200 yards from the spot where Pierson was mangled to death, waiting for his two initiators, who he says were Jacob Ewalt and J. B. Park. This, Barber declared occurred about an hour before Piersons life was crushed out.

"We have conclusively established," said Prosecutor Stillwell, "that it is a custom at the college to tie candidates to the tracks in the initiation ceremonies. We have positive evidence, from Barber's lips and otherwise, that he was so tied. We know that a special train for the removal of the body was ordered before the undertaker was sent for. We know of the activity before daylight that morning to remove every trace of blood and clothing.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co. Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Telephone Lines.

The building of a telephone line by the farmers from Rebersburg to Wolf's Store, which line was afterwards turned over to the Pennsylvania Telephone company for operation, opened up a lively competition between the Pennsylvania and United Telephone companies for the establishment of farmer's lines throughout the county with the result that the matter was taken up by the Centre county Pomona Grange, at a meeting held in Milesburg, in August, and propositions solicited from both companies. These were submitted by the officials in charge and at a meeting of the committee appointed by the Grange to inquire into the matter, held at State College, last Friday, they decided to accept the proposition of the Pennsylvania company, with slight modifications. This company now has two former's lines in operation, both ton the State College exchange, one running across to Boalsburg and one between the College and Lemont.

Belts.

The flowered kid belts are not new, but they are now made twice as alluring by buckles of enamel tinted to match the kid. For instance, a white one sprayed with misty wild roses have two buckles, front and back, of rose-pink and white enamel. These buckles are the merest oblong frames, delicate and slender, about three inches long and two wide, and exactly matching the belt color.

An orchid belt with purple and white buckles is fetching, and one of the prettiest has a tracery of delicate green ferns and buckles of green with white rims.

Rich, glowing girdles that will lend a warm note to the tailored gown are those of stamped Japanese leather, which come in brown, purple, blue, garnet or olive tones, with little glints of brighter color and gold.

Then there are girdle belts laced in and out with ribbons of kid of the same color belts of sheer, delicate lace over colored batist or silk, such veritable cobwebs that you wonder how they will hold to span even the most fairylike waist; and belts so aglow with glittering precious stones that they never ought to be let loose from a jewel box.

One of the most captivating novelties is the peacock belt—a girdle of light champagne sued, with two wing-shaped insertions in back, embroidered solidly in the peacock colors. The jeweled buckles are of green and blue stones.—Scranton Tribune.

SOME ARRET WERE MADE!

How the New York Police Captured Two Men.

SUIT CASE MYSTERY

They Also Think That the Person Primarily Responsible for Girl's Death Will be Arrested.

STORY TOLD BY WILLIAM HOWARD

Boston, Nov. 3 —Chief William B. Watts, of the Boston bureau of criminal investigation, announced last night that a physician, held by the New York police had made a confession concerning his complicity in the dress suit case tragedy. Chief Watts said the physician's name would be given later. The chief decided to leave for New York on the midnight train.

Before leaving headquarters for the south station, Chief Watts said that a second man had been detained in New York. The names of the two he said were Dr. Lewis H. Crawford and a man calling himself Wm. Howard. Accompanying Chief Watts to New York are Superintendent of Police Pierce, the three pawnbrokers and a cabman who have been identified with the case.

New York, Nov. 3.—In the arrest of the two men here yesterday the police declare that the solution of the dress suit case mystery will be reached and that the person primarily responsible for the death of Susan Geury, the chorus girl of the Shepherd King company soon will be in the hands of the police. Wm. Howard, who has an alias of Hunt, is 36 years old. He says he is an engineer by occupation and that he has lived since he came here in a furnished room house in East Fourteenth street. Albert H. Emery, alias Crawford, is a theatrical agent. Howard, as soon as he was placed under arrest, the police say, freely told the complete story of the disposition of the body but absolutely denies that he knows who performed the operation on the chorus girl which brought about her death or who dismembered the body. He was hired to help Crawford, he swears, to dispose of the body and this is all he has had to do with the case, although he admits that he knew the girl had died under suspicious circumstances and that her body had been cut up.

Howard and Crawford were arrested last night As soon as the men were brought to police headquarters Howard broke down and made the alleged confession. According to the prisoner's sworn statement, as related by the police he has known Crawford for more than three years. Crawford has been employed at Various times by patent medicine concerns throughout the United States, but for sometime has been engaged in a managing, what the police say, is a lying-in hospital conducted by his mother-in-law. Dr. Jane Bishop, on Tremont street, Boston.

On the morning of September 19 last two days before the dismembered body of Susan Geary was found. Howard called at Dr. Bishop's place to see Crawford. Howard said he needed money badly at the time and when Crawford suggested that he was in a position to get him a good fee, he quickly jumped at the chance.

"Now I have got a chance to let you make a good piece of money," Crawford is alleged to have said to Howard, "only you want to be mighty careful and keep your mouth shut. One of our patients is dead and we have got to get rid of the body. We've got to get rid of it by all means and without delay."

Then he went on to tell Howard, according to the confession, that a girl had died from the effects of an operation. He explained in detail what was required—to remove the remains to some spot where they would not be discovered for some time.

The Renewal a Strain,

Vacation is over. Again the school bell rings at morning and at noon, again with tens of thousands the hardest kind of work has begun, the renewal of which is a mental and physical strain to all except the most rugged. The little girl that a few days ago had roses in her cheeks, and the little boy whose lips were then so red you would have insisted that they had been "kissed by strawberries," have already lost something of the appearance of health. Now is a time when many children should be given a tonic which should avert such serious trouble, and we know of no other so highly to be recommended as Hood's Sarsaparilla, which strengthens the nerves, perfects digestion and assimilation, and aids mental development by building up the whole system.

Unlucky Book Agent.

"I'll admit there are drawbacks in every business," said the garrulous book agent in the Philadelphia Record, "but when it comes to ups and down, book canvassing carries off the palm. Yesterday I blew into a house of which I had ascertained the occupants' name, and after asking for Mrs. So-and-So, I was ushered into the parlor. In a moment a delightful old lady entered, and, greeting me with a pleasant smile, said, 'Good morning.' I explained that I was selling a set of travel books on easy terms, and without waiting for her reply began to show her one of the books. It happened to deal with India, and was filled with pictures of femine stricken natives and mission churches. She took a deep interest in these, examining them intently, and, sure of a sale, I didn't give her a chance to talk. For a quarter of an hour I got off my stereotyped 'spiel,' and then, producing contracts, began to urge business. The old lady seemed puzzled and pushed a button. To my surprise, the young woman who responded began to talk to her with the deaf and dumb finger method. Then she turned to me, and explained that there had been a mistake. It appeared that the old lady was deeply interested in foreign missions and there minister had promised to send his assistant with some striking pictures of the Indian femine. The old lady was stone deaf, and all my talk had been wasted.

Erring Woman Attempts Suicide.

Mrs. Ed Dittmar was prevented on Thursday evening from committing suicide in the Pennsylvania railroad yards at Williamsport, says the Gazette and Bulletin. She was detected by the crew of a shifting engine in the act of throwing herself under a freight car that was about to be moved along the track. Brakeman Burroughs pulled the woman out of harm's way and ordered her away from the railroad property. A short time afterward Brakeman Burroughs saw the woman throw herself in front of a locomotive and again did the rescue act.

Mrs. Dittmar was held by the brakeman until assistance arrived, and then she was taken to the freight station nearby. She was closely guarded in the building until Roundsman Fincher was summoned from the police station. In the meantime the woman indulged in a constant raving and begged that she be permitted to end her existence. While the officer was escorting her to the city hall Mrs. Dittmar asked to be released for only a moment, stating that that would be time enough for her to kill herself

After Mrs. Dittmar had been placed in a cell at police headquarters she denied that she had attempted to committ suicide. She asserted her husband had taken her to the railroad and thrown her in front of the engine.

The police have investigated the different versions of the occurrence in the freight yard and are convinced that the husband of the woman did not seek her death. They have gathered information that Mrs. Dittmar and a strange man were found on Fifth street by Mr. Dittman, and the couple were roughly handled by the husband. Then it was, according to the story of the railroad employes, that Mrs. Dittmar hastened to the vicinity of the freight station and attempted to throw herself under the engine.

Home-Made Bureau.

A really nice and unusual bureau, if one has not that piece of furniture in mahogany, is made by buying a chest of soft pine drawers and painting them white. Buy a mirror of the size that prefers, and then have two uprights made to support it. These are screwed almost in the exact middle of the bureau, the mirror swung in it by means of long, fancy screws, and a colonial model is had at small expense. If there is a deep space between windows, place the bureau in it.

In another space put the desk, and the sloping ceiling will do no harm even if it is on a line with the top of the desk. Care should be taken that the chair is in place where on rising from the desk there will be no danger of banging one's head. If there is a convenient nook for the washstand, utilize the space, but it must not be under the sloping roof for obvious reasons.—Indianapolis News.

Good Progress With Corn.

The farmers have been making excellent progress gathering their corn crop during the good weather that has prevailed throughout this month, and a large part of the crop is now in the cribs which are filled to the utmost capacity. The crop has been frequently referred to as immense and what is more it is in excellent condition. There probably never was a year in which the percentage of corn was so small

EXCURSIONS TO THE WEST

To the Pacific Coast—to California, Oregon, Washington—round-trip, long transit and return limits, liberal stop-over privileges.

The rate is practically on the basis of one fare for the round trip. Of course, if you wish to visit both California and Oregon or Washington, the cost is slightly more.

These reduced rates are in effect on certain dates in months of May to October, inclusive. They apply from all Eastern points via Chicago, St. Louis or Memphis gateways. The Rock Island System will take you up in either Chicago or St. Louis, or at hundreds of other Middle West points and carry you to the Coast in through Standard or Tourist Sleepers with unexcelled Dining Car service. The Rock Island also affords a choice of routes: on the "Scenic" route you can stop off in Colorado—see Salt Lake City—visit Yellowstone National Park; on the "Southern" route you can go via El Paso, thru New Mexico, then "up coast" to San Francisco and on to Portland or Seattle if desired.

In short, these Pacific Coast excursions offer an unusually good chance to see our western country in a comprehensive manner.

If you desire to go only as far as Colorado, there are excursion rates in effect to that section and return, all summer long, specially reduced June 30 to July 4, August 12 and 13, and August 30 to September 4. Extension trips to Ogden or Salt Lake and return at low cost also.

From September 15 to October 31, 1905, one-way tourist or "colonist" tickets will be on sale to California and the Pacific Northwest—about half regular fare.

If interested, send name and address on this coupon, designating which booklet wanted and to what point you plan to go. Name probable date of start also, so we can advise definitely with respect to rates, etc.

You who have been reading the daily papers can easily imagine how the thought came to the author's mind to write this story. STRANGE ADVICE!

Dr. G. G. Green gives alert personal attention to his great humanitarian contract.

¶In our Almanac for many years past we have given unusual advice to those afflicted with coughs, colds, throat or lung troubles or consumption. We have told them if they did not receive any special benefit after the use of one 75-cent size bottle of German Syrup, to consult their doctor. ¶We did not ask them or urge them to use a large number of bottles, as is the case in the advertising of many other remedies. Our confidence in German Syrup makes it possible for us to give such advice. ¶We know by the experience of over 35 years that one 75-cent bottle of German Syrup will speedily relieve or cure the worst coughs, colds, bronchial or lung troubles—and that, even in bad cases of consumption, one large bottle of German Syrup will work wonders. ¶New trial bottles, 25c.; regular size, 75c. EDITOR CHILDREN'S FRIEND.

Jacksonville (Ill.) Man Took Over 400 of Them to St. Louis.

Samuel W. Nichols, editor of the Jacksonville Journal, has probably made more persons happy through his benevolence than any other man in America, says a dispatch from Jacksonville, Ill. He might have been a rich man. As it is, he is prosperous, although he gives a large part of his income away.

He delights in making others happy. That was why he recently put 430 Jacksonville school children on a train and took them to St. Louis. He paid all the expenses of the trip, provided the lunches and supplied the car fare for the tour of Shaws garden, Forest park and the retail and wholesale districts of the city. It was a glorious outing for the little ones, 90 per cent of whom had never been out of Jacksonville before. It is a frequent occurrence for Mr. Nichols to take his little friends on excursions.

"None of my little neighbors shall want for all the joys of life, as I did," he says. "They shall have all the pleasure I can give them. I had no pleasures in childhood. I had to go to work before I was ten years of age. I was driving a team when I was twelve. My mother was poor and could not give me the things she desired. I am not rich, but I have a little to spare now and then, and the children get it. I do not know how to squander money. It takes very little for my needs, and all that is left over I give to the children. To see them happy does me good. What a vast sight of downright, simon pure, genuine happiness is missed by the men who hoard their gold, when, with it, they might scatter so many smiles!"

Mr. Nichols has aided over half a hundred women to get an education. Many years ago he conceived the idea of establishing a playground for the children of the place, and a couple of years ago he provided such a place at a cost of $10,000.

Last year, during the world's fair, Mr. Nichols brought 400 children to St. Louis and paid their way until they had seen the whole of the big show.

Toward the holidays Mr. Nichols is especially busy. He goes to the teachers in the public schools and the overseer of the poor and gets the names of all the poor children in the city. Then he buys dolls by the hundreds, candy by the hundredweight, oranges by the box, knives by the dozens, games, books and everything that delights the childish heart and then distributes them in a manner to attract as little attention as possible.

Mr. Nichols is very plain and unassuming, almost careless regarding his personal appearance.

HOCH'S VIEWS ON HANGING.

Why Kansas Governor Objects to Capital Punishment.

Prisoners in the Kansas penitentiary under sentence of death need have no fear of the governor's signing their death warrants, says a Topeka dispatch to the Kansas City Star. In a letter to the Christian Herald Governor Edward W. Hoch says that capital punishment is brutal and must soon give way to other methods of dealing with criminals.

The governor's letter is as follows:

"The whole trend of thought on the subject of criminology is and has ever been toward more humane penalties. Indeed the march of civilization is well marked in the world's penal statutes. Time was when punishments were purposely made as severe and brutal as possible. Criminals were boiled in oil, stretched upon iron racks, inclosed in barrels with spikes protruding inward and rolled down steep declivities and tortured in every conceivable way.

"But we have gradually grown away from these brutal practices in the name of the law, and capital punishment is the worst if not the only remaining relic of the dark ages in the treatment of crime. The infliction of this punishment has been made as humane as possible, which is a prophecy of its ultimate abandonment. Capital punishment does not deter criminals from committing crime. Statistics abundantly establish this fact. It is a brutal custom that does no good and must soon give way to a better philosophy of government and a higher Christian civilization."

New Type of Street Car.

Montreal has a new type of railway car, says the Toronto Mail and Empire. The passenger enters at the rear end and passes through a doorway, where the conductor in a species of ticket office collects the fare. It is stated that the company gathers in 25 per cent more fares in this car than it did in the old type. This is one of those reforms that street railway companies find out for themselves.

MANY WOLVES IN VERMONT.

Animals Becoming So Thick and Bold That Farmers Are Alarmed.

Much to the astonishment and anxiety of residents of Windsor, Rutland, Orange and Washington counties, in Vermont, wolves are making their appearance this fall, and in several regions town hunts have been organized to rid the communities of the dangerous beasts, says a special dispatch from Northfield, Vt., to the New York World. Thus far several have been killed, but they continue to increase.

For many years wolves have been considered extinct, and when a Grafton man declared he saw one three years ago the report was taken with a grain of salt. This so incensed the Grafton man that he spent a week hunting the animal and finally brought it to the village in triumph, where it was seen to be a genuine specimen. Since then the wolves have been breeding, and farmers fear that they will soon become mighty troublesome unless measures are promptly taken to exterminate them.

The increase is laid to the fact that a few years ago the wolves were driven southward from Canada and because the state decided about this time to remove the bounty on all noxious animals. Then, too, deer have been increasing, and young fawns make excellent feeding for lone wolves. When the animals travel in packs they have no difficulty in overcoming a buck.

Within the last few weeks wolves have been seen in Barnard, Waitsfield, Grafton, Gayesville, Chittenden, Pittsfield and in several other towns. In three instances they have been killed, but in the others they escaped. Last spring a farmer named Purdy, who lives in Northam, found in the woods near his place what he thought were two shepherd puppies. They were about three weeks old, and he had no difficulty in catching them. He had the little fellows in his arms and was starting home with them when he was ferociously attacked by an old she wolf and was badly bitten in the leg before he could beat the beast off.

This is the only case where a wolf has attacked a man, but two children have been set upon, and countless sheep have been killed. For a time the town authorities laid the depredations to dogs, and it is believed that they paid damages in several instances where wolves were to blame. For the most part the wolves keep well back in the mountains during the daytime, coming down to the pastures only at night. This makes hunting them extremely difficult and accounts for the small success the farmers have had in exterminating them. Up to the present they have not become numerous enough to hunt in packs, but they will shortly unless some concerted action be taken to kill them off. Concern is felt for children in the remote districts, who frequently have to travel over long, lonesome woodland stretches in order to reach the district schools.

BOAT WITH GLASS BOTTOM.

For Use In California, and Sea Bottom Can Be Seen.

After a year of more than ordinary success, in which they found three glass bottom power boats unequal to the demands, says the Avalon correspondent of the Los Angeles Times, a company of boat builders has had plans drawn for a unique boat the like of which has never been known. Its capacity will be 270 persons, 150 of whom can sit on the upper deck under an awning and at the glasses to view the wonders in the depths of the sea.

J. D. Martin of the boat company drew the plans and purposes to have the new boat in commission by March 1 next. The hull will be 75 feet long and 18 feet wide, while the width of the lower deck over all will be 25 feet. The upper deck will be 14 by 60. There will be two rows of glasses fore and aft, with lenses 20 by 60 inches and an inch thick. One of the most unique features of the new boat will be that it requires no wharf at which to land, but will run up on the beach with its cargo and receive and land the passengers from a gang plank.

A DE SOTO RECORD FOUND.

Hidden For Three Centuries on the Shore of Lake Itaska.

After more than three centuries a record of the De Soto expedition has been found on the shore of Lake Itaska, says a St. Paul dispatch to the Kansas City Star. It was under a huge bowlder, where it has lain undisturbed. The record is written on the skin of an antelope. It was found by Chester Gray, a farmer, who lives on the shore of Lake Itaska, which is a source of the Mississippi river. He will send the record to the Smithsonian institution in Washington.

The record, which is barely legible, is dated Aug. 9, 1547. It is signed by Ferdinand Villena and Sancho Cueva, members of the De Soto exploring party, who in the letter say they have named the lake, whence rises the great river in which De Soto had been buried six years before, Lake De Soto.

WARFARE IN THE AIR

Military Balloon's Battle With Automobiles In France.

PRACTICABILITY OF BOTH PROVED

French Fortifications Bombarded With Blank Cartridges From a Height of 4,500 Feet—The Swift Motor Cars Were Credited With the Victory.

Like a glance into the future by a Verne or a Wells has been the work of the balloon and automobile corps of the French army in the field maneuvers during the past few days, says a special cable dispatch from Paris to the New York American and Journal. High in the air over the forts of Toul—which, by the by, lies on the road to Strassburg—the Lebaudy military dirigible balloon circled and swung, bombarding the fortifications below with blank cartridges, while swift automobiles followed the airship on the roads beneath and fired at it with light rapid fire guns.

The demonstration was the most remarkable of modern war methods. It marked two great steps forward in military science. The practicability of the balloon as an attacking force was clearly shown, but as a parallel development it was also shown that these aerial assaults could be opposed and a splendid defense established by the use of small, light high power guns mounted on swift auto cars.

The Lebaudy military dirigible balloon made three successful flights and created the greatest enthusiasm among the officers in charge of the maneuvers. The third and by far the most ambitious flight on the part of the balloon resulted in a successful attack upon a series of fortifications. The umpires were confronted with conditions such as have never arisen on any actual battlefield, and their decision has been contested by many who witnessed the maneuvers. They admitted the success of the attack by the balloon on the forts, but also credited the automobile guns with a victory over the balloon.

The great airship was sent to a height of 4,500 feet with several army officers on board. A course was mapped out, which was followed perfectly by the airship, although it was forced to make its way against the wind, with the wind abeam and with the wind off the quarter. It swung gracefully along, however, passing above each of the forts indicated in the plan of attack turned over to the army officers in charge. The sight was one which called forth expressions of amazement from the veteran officers following the maneuvers. As easily as a motor boat the great airship was brought into position above each of the forts.

Then at such an altitude as to be distinguishable only with field glasses one of the officers would lean over the side and drop a blank cartridge. It would be seen to flash in the air and then shoot downward with the constantly increasing momentum that finally dashed it like a meteor into the fort at which it was directed. A flash of flame and then a sharp report would mark the landing of the cartridge, and in nearly every case a hit was scored for the airship.

While the airship soared through the air a half dozen automobiles on the roads beneath coursed it like beagles. A constant rattle from the light machine guns marked the attempt to defend the fortifications in this fashion, and from time to time the balloonists would set afloat smaller balloons, which floated away and were used as targets later by the automobile guns, using ball cartridges.

The work of these automobile batteries was remarkable. Although, of course, no leaded shells were fired at the airship, the rapidity of fire, the ability of the automobiles to follow the flight of the aerial bombarders and the accuracy of fire, as shown later against the target balloons, were all considered in making a decision, and the result of the deliberations of the umpire was that the attacking airship would have been destroyed by the automobile corps. What the result would have been had a fleet of aerial battleships been in action the umpires did not say.

The accuracy of the aim of the gunners was shown to be remarkable when it was taken into consideration that they were firing from automobiles going at a high rate of speed at balloons moving over 4,000 feet above the ground. Several of the target balloons were hit and shells sent close to others.

Further experiments in the use of the airship and of automobile corps will be kept up for several weeks.

Negro's Important Discovery.

An old negro who has a forty acre farm on Choctaw creek, near Sherman, Tex., claims that he makes a bale of cotton to the acre every year by topping the cotton stalks in the dark of the August moon, says the St. Louis Republic. The topping is said to cause the plant to spread and to put on a heavier fruitage on the lower branches. If it be established that his uniformly good yield is mainly due to summer pruning this humble tiller of the soil on Choctaw creek has made as important a discovery in cotton planting as that made in cotton ginning by the mill operative who found out for himself that the thread came smoother and easier by wetting the raw cotton before ginning.

—W. S. Swanson, employed by the Singer Sewing Machine Co., at Clearfield was found dead in bed at noon Wednesday. He hadn't been well for sometime and that day he told the family he boarded with not to disturb him and he stayed in his room all day. At noon when Porter Harley went to call him to dinner he found him dead.

—So great has been the number of applications for state aid in the reconstruction of roads, made at the State High way Department between October 1st and the present time, that the department is threatened to be swamped with work. Chief Clerk Beman said the other day that applications for 75 miles of road in various portions of the state were made last month, and that if this activity continues the number of engineers and draughtsmen employed in preparing plans at the department will be entirely inadequate to turn out the work.

—While they were very quiet about it other people are gradually finding out about the successful conclusion of the "Mission" and Jubilee which the Rev. Lewis Nichols (who has many friends in Bellefonte) and his vestry planned so well for St. Pauls Parish Lock Haven. On the Sunday following so that any solicitation over 5000 dollars was found on the plate as an offering. which has since been increased over seven thousand. They are preparing plans for the enlargement of the Parish House and church as well as a general scheme of churchly decoration.

—Frank Patton, son of R. A. Patton, of Port Matilda, was hunting for pheasant near Hensheytown one day last week. He saw a pheasant and was in the act of raising his gun to shoot when the weapon was discharged, the charge tearing off the second toe and mutilating the other three toes of the right foot. The ball of his foot was also painfully injured. The young man who is 16 years old, was cared for by Ira Wentzell and family, and Dr. Thomas L. Wilson, of Bellwood, dressed his wounds. He was able to accompany his father home a couple of days after the accident.

—A Mr. Williams of Richmond, has already killed 186 squirrels this season. He had three Waterbury watches. He would go to the woods and go to two hickory trees where the squirrels feed. He would wind the watches up, put them in a small tin can and to each can a string. Then each was tied to the limb of a tree. Then he would get in some secluded spot as the watches would tick away. The noise was like that of a squirrel cutting a nut and could be heard for a great distance. Every squirrel in the neighborhood would be drawn to the trees where they supposed their companions were having a big feast. In this way every squirrel has been killed by being decoyed in those two trees by this new device. Mr. Williams says he has seen as many as six at a time running around the limbs where the watches were fastened.

—At a recent parliamentary election in Carlisle one of the candidates was named Chance. His campaigners got out placards reading, "Give Carlisle a Chance" The opposition replied with "Take No Chances. Vote for Sanderson!" The electors Chanced it.

—The body of Harry S. Zimmerman, aged 18, of Mines, Blair county, was found in a field near his home Thursday. Zimmerman had gone hunting the previous day, and failed to return that evening. He had died from wounds in the head. caused by the accidental discharge of his gun.

—A. L. Bolger, ex-postmaster of Philipsburg, while on an eastern trip, died suddenly at Reading on Tuesday Oct. 30. He was aged 48 years. Besides his wife he leaves one daughter, Mrs. Reuben Philipe, of Tunneltown, W. Va., and three brothers, viz: Aaron, of Martinsburg, and Frank and Wesley, of Woodbury, Pa.

—John Nolan, son of the late Jerry Nolan, who with his family have been making their home in Tyrone, have moved to Bellefonte and are now located in the Keichline house on Thomas street, Christ Young, who lived in the house, has packed his furniture and this winter will reside with his father-in-law, David Barlett.

—The woodman with his axe and the sawyer with his saw (mill) are now despoiling the timber in what is known as the back woods on the Humes farm, just east of town. And thus the ruthless lumberman is marching along and if the present pace continues it will not be many years until there will be no groves in the county in which to hold the old-time Sunday school picnic.

—The will of the late Moses Montgomery was probated last week. He leaves an estate estimated between twenty and thirty thousand dollars. This is divided into four equal parts. His brothers, W. W., Frank C. and Henry each receive a share and the fourth share is equally divided between his nephew John Bullock and niece Mrs. Frank Lukenbach, of Tyrone.

—The granite work of almost one-half of the soldiers's monument has been assembled and one can now form a pretty correct idea of just how imposing the entire monument will look when completed. Whether it will be possible to complete it entirely this fall will depend to a great extent on the kind of weather we may have between this and the Holidays, as it will require a month to six weeks longer to finish it.

—Rev Ingram W. Irvine, D. D., who was unfrocked by Bishop Ethelbert Talbot, of the Central Pennsylvania diocese of the Protestant Episcopal church as a result of the trouble in the Huntingdon congregation, will be formally admitted into the priesthood of the Russian Orthodox Catholic Church next Sunday in St, Nicholas Cathedral, New York. —The annual report of the Lock Haven hospital has just been issued and shows that from Sept. 1st, 1904, to August 31st 1905. four hundred and fifty two patients were treated in that institution. Two hundred and forty paid or partly paid and two hundred and seventy-two operations and thirty-one deaths, The Lock Haven hospital has become a very firmly established institution, its fine new building and excellent management being a credit to our sister town and an example of generosity and interest that our people might well emulate.

—Forty-three survivors of the gallant Forty-ninth regiment, Pennsylvania volunteers, accompanied by sixteen ladies gathered at Gettysburg on Tuesday on the occasion of the annual reunion of the regiment. At a business session the following officers were elected: President Henry C. Robison, of Bedford; vice-presidents, J. K. Wilson, Huntingdon; John Shumaker, Milroy, and Samuel Osborne, Westchester; secretary, R. S. Westbrook, Altoona; assistant secretary, O. S. Rumberger, Warriorsmark; treasurer, Robert A. Work, East Waterfork; chaplain. Rev. B. F. Clarkson, Union Ridge, Md. The next reunion will be held at McVeytown, the date to be fixed by the president and secretary.

—Many of the school children in Blair township refuse to be vaccinated as the law directs and the parents of some of the children are inclined to take sides with them in their refusal to have their arms scraped. As a result their is a falling off in the school attendence. One day last week there were only three pupils in attendance at one school. It is said the school board will make a determined effort to compel a compliance with the vaccination law. If the decision of an eastern judge is correct it is difficult to see how they can do so. He holds in his decision that while the schools law is compulsory, the vaccination-law is not. The compulsory school law and the vaccination law are opposing farces. Children can be compelled to submit to vaccination, and if they are not vaccinated they can be debarred from the schools, and that is just where the vaccination law conflicts with the compulsory feature of the school law.

Miss Ida Halterman will be remembered by her many Bellefonte friends, as she was formerly of this place.

—By sitting in a room which is not properly heated, riding in the open air without sufficient clothing, or standing in the streets talking on a cold or windy day, most any person is liable to contract a severe cold. Now, to avoid this you should take very long deep breaths, which will increase the heart's action, and improve the circulation forcing blood into the capillaries, which keeps the surface of the skin from a congested and abnormal condition. A person would never freeze as long as he could maintain and equalize the circulation of the blood, because no part of the body would freeze while active circulation is going on. If the person does take cold no time should be lost in restoring the system to its normal condition. A cold is like a fire—the longer it is allowed to run the more stubborn it becomes and the more difficult it is to conquer. The most effectual way of breaking up a cold is to drink plenty of hot peppermint or ginger tea, bathe the the feet in hot water, and take a good sweat bath.

TURNED HIM DOWN.

A Lewistown Girl Rejects Proposals of a Married Man.

A Shamokin newspaper says: George Gregor, of Shamokin, who recently deserted his wife and babe, is no angel according to a statement made by a Lewistown woman, who sent the fellow's deserted wife a letter several days ago.

Some months ago Gregor met the Lewistown young lady and made violent love to her notwithstanding the fact that he is a married man.

He even went further. He proposed marriage and had the audacity to ask her to come to Shamokin to live with him. The Lewistown girl learned that he was a married man and sent the letter to his wife, enclosing the proposal of marriage that he had sent her. The Lewistown woman sends the deserted wife the following trite and timely letter:

"I write to you to let you know that I have been receiving letters from your husband asking me to marry him, just as if I didn't know he is such already. This is not the first letter he has written in such a way, but dozens worse. I am not writing you this to make disturbance, but simply because I think it is your duty to know such things. He said he would provide me with a good home and all I want to eat. Just kindly tell George if he wants to provide anyone with a good home, etc., to provide it for you and his child."

To Clean Gloves.

Put the gloves on. Put gasoline in a saucer. Then wash in the gasoline as if washing your hands. Take a flannel rag and rub the gloves. Let them dry on your hands, but do not go near a fire or flame, as the gasoline may ignite. When the gloves are quite dry, take them off and sun them. This method of procedure is for kid gloves.

If the gloves are stained dip the stained part in melted tallow of any kind. Then lay warm pipe-clay on that and press it for a time. You may have to repeat this before the stain comes out.

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION.

President Roosevelt Proclaims November 30 To be a Day of Thanks.

Washington, November 4.—The president Thursday issued his proclamation naming Thursday, November 30, next as a day for thanksgiving. The president's proclamation follows:

"By the President of the United States of America:

"A proclamation: When, nearly three centuries ago, the first settlers came to the country which has now become this great republic, they were confronted not only by hardship and privation, but terrible risk to their lives. In those grim years the custom grew of setting apart one day in each year for a special service of thanksgiving to the Almighty for preserving the people through the changing seasons. The custom has now become national and hallowed by immemorial usage. We live in easier and more plentiful times than our forefathers, the men who with rugged strength faced the rugged days, and yet the dangers to national life are quite as great now as at any previous time in our history. It is eminently fitting that once a year our people should set apart a day for praise and thanksgiving to the Giver of good, and at the same time that they express their thankfulness for the abundant mercies received; should manfully acknowledge their shortcoming and pledge themselves solemnly and in good faith to strive to overcome them. During the past year we have been blessed with bountiful crops. Our business prosperity has been great. No other people have ever stood on as high a level of material well being as ours now stands. We are not threatened by foes from without. The foes from whom we should pray to be delivered are our own passions, appetites and follies, and gainst these there is always need that we should war.

"Therefore, I now set apart Thursday, the 30th day of this November as a day of Thanksgiving for the past and of prayer for the future, and on that day I ask that throughout the land the people gather in their homes and places of worship and in rendering thanks unto the Most High for the manifold blessings of the past year, consecrate themselves to a life of cleanliness, honor and wisdom, so that this nation may do its allotted work on earth in a manner to honor those who founded it and those who preserved it.

"In witness whereof I have herewith set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

"Done at the city of Washington this second day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and five and of the independence of the United States the one hundred and thirtieth.

"By the president.

"THEODORE ROOSEVELT."

ELIHU ROOT, Secretary of State.
